Dear Dr. Jie Liu,

The 2019 ACS Publications Symposium: Innovation in Materials Science & Technology will be held in Singapore in November 17-19, 2019, in partnership with the Nanyang Technological University and National University of Singapore. We would like to invite you to attend this upcoming event.

The three-day scientific program will feature five plenary sessions on important topics influencing the fields of materials science and technology. Attendees have the opportunity to share their science during poster sessions and network with their peers and world-renowned scientists and lecturers.

More details can be found at <http://symposium.acs.org/2019/singapore/>

Registration fee for Non-ACS Member-Academic is USD350/SGD479.85. Travel and accommodation costs are however at your own expense.

We look forward to welcoming you to this event!

Sincerely,

Libby Brennan
